FROM OUR PASTOR, FATHER VAN LIESHOUT

Praised be Jesus Christ!

As I write these words, it is currently the morning of January 22nd, which in the Dioceses of the United States is designated as a "Day of Prayer for the Legal Protection of Unborn Children." The instruction from the US Bishops is that it: "shall be observed as a particular day of prayer for the full restoration of the legal guarantee of the right to life and of penance for violations to the dignity of the human person committed through acts of abortion."

By the time you read this bulletin article, I realize that the day will have already passed, and looking back, I suppose that this reminder is about one week too late. But as important as I think the day is on the national level, at the parish level I'm actually far more concerned about promoting amongst all of our parishioners a deeply held PRO-LIFE COMMITMENT, uncompromised and unashamed, that is simply such a part of our Catholic identity that we take it for granted (in a good way).

Occasionally in this column I mention what I think are two important visible indicators of the spiritual health of successful parishes: 1. Authentic Eucharistic devotion/reverence; and 2. Frequent confession. But in the back on my mind, I've always thought that there really is a third indicator that merits attention: 3. Pro-life commitment.

Here are three reasons why I think this is case:

- 1. IT IS AT THE FOUNDATION OF ALL THE REST OF THE CORPORAL WORKS OF MERCY. Christ commands his disciples to demonstrate love of neighbor by assisting those in need: feeding the hungry, clothing the naked, visiting the imprisoned, sheltering the homeless, and so on. All of this is, without a doubt, a part of being an authentic follower of Christ. But if this care for our neighbor does not also contain a preeminent place for those who are most vulnerable, most voiceless, and most endangered in our own society (roughly 3000 abortions take place every day in the US) then our just concern for these other areas of charity is likely motivated by something other than the mind of Christ. Perhaps no one in recent memory was more committed to the care for the world's poor than Mother Theresa. She cared for the destitute, sick, and dying on the streets of Calcutta, to the admiration of all the world. But her interior priorities were unflinching: "The greatest destroyer of peace in the world today is abortion, because it is a direct war, a direct killing," she said. "If we accept that a mother can kill even her own child, how can we tell people not to kill one another?"
- 2. IT IS TIED TO SO MANY OTHER KEY MORAL ISSUES OF OUR DAY. I'm very aware from first-hand, pastoral experience that the temptation toward abortion is closely linked to a host of other background conditions: poor family structure, pre-marital/extra-marital sexual activity, improper use of sexuality within marriage, radical feminist ideology, systemic poverty, and the like. It would involve a sort of hypocrisy (or at least short-sightedness) to focus only on that issue, without also being concerned about these common root causes. But that is just the point—the Church's moral teaching IS a united whole! When followed in totality and lived, it leads toward authentic human flourishing. When parts are ignored (particularly in our post-sexual revolution world), then it is not surprising that it leads to particularly egregious social consequences.
- 3. THE PRO-LIFE COMMITMENT INVOLVES AN ALMOST DAILY TEST OF FORTITUDE IN THE FAITH. Let's be honest, when was the last time that you really felt any sort of external push-back in your belief in the Real Presence of Christ in the Eucharist? My guess is that unless you have strongminded Protestant friends, this experience is fairly rare. But when was the last time that you experienced social push-back on the prolife cause? How about almost every day (in some way) via the news or social media platforms! The pro-abortion position is basically a dogma of most "cultural elites" and any dissent from within those ranks is met with swift online ridicule and attempts a social "cancelling." But the fact of the matter is, on the other side, the intrinsic wrong of direct killing of unborn human life really is a dogma of the Catholic faith! Which means that faithful Catholics living in our culture today will daily experience the effects of being out of synch with those who are regarded as "something" in the eyes of the world.

Trust me, I know the struggle that this involves, and I sympathize with those for whom this is painful. But take refuge in the words of Sacred Scripture: "God chose the weak of the world to shame the strong, and God chose the lowly and despised of the world, those who count for nothing, to reduce to nothing those who are something, so that no human being might boast before God" (1 Cor. 1:27-29).

PLEASE RETURN YOUR SANCTUARY LAMP ENVELOPES
If you picked up a Sanctuary Lamp envelope, please submit it with the requested offering as soon as possible.

When you pick up an envelope and don't return it, we assume that week is spoken for and consequently unavailable to anyone else who might want to reserve it. This prevents others who would like to sponsor a candle or lamp from being able to do so.

Sanctuary Lamp envelopes are still available in the back of St. Felix & St. Francis Churches.

MEN— WHAT ARE YOU DOING FOR LENT?

Last week, Fr. VanLieshout talked about St. Joseph. Ever wonder why St. Joseph is called the Terror of Demons? Or why he is the Hope of the Sick or Patron of the Dying? Starting on Monday, February 15th, St. Peter's Parish is hosting a Men's Group, Consecration to St. Joseph, using a book with the same title by Fr. Donald Calloway. We will examine all The Wonders of Our Spiritual Father, St. Joseph on this exciting and eye-opening six-meeting journey. For all men that commit to this journey, the book will be provided at no charge. For more information or to register, please contact Brian Moser @ (585) 690-0200 or bmoser2012@gmail.com.
