ST. PETER'S ROMAN CATHOLIC PARISH at the CHURCHES of ST. DOMINIC, ST. FELIX, and ST. FRANCIS

FROM OUR PASTOR, FATHER AMATO

I pray for all of you daily, that your Advent season is fruitful as we continue to "prepare the way of the Lord" and "make straight his paths" in our own lives. As we continue our tour through the Roman Canon, we now come to one of the final prayers:

"To us, also, your servants, who, though sinners, hope in your abundant mercies, graciously grant some share and fellowship with your holy Apostles and Martyrs: with John the Baptist, Stephen, Matthias, Barnabas, Ignatius, Alexander, Marcellinus, Peter, Felicity, Perpetua, Agatha, Lucy, Agnes, Cecilia, Anastasia and all your Saints: admit us, we beseech you, into their company, not weighing our merits, but granting us your pardon, through Christ our Lord."

Again we see a parallel with the part of the Canon prior to the Consecration. There, after the Memento of the Living, we pray the prayer with the litany of saints, beginning with the Blessed Virgin Mary. Here, after the Memento of the Dead, we have another litany of saints, headlined by St. John the Baptist.

First, we must notice for whom we pray this prayer. It is for us. We have prayed for the peace and unity of the Church; we have prayed for all those in our intentions, for their health and salvation; we have prayed in adoration of and thanksgiving to God for His goodness to us; we have prayed that our sacrifice partake in the eternal worship of heaven, and that the dead may join that heavenly banquet. Finally, in this prayer we pray for ourselves.

The priest begins this prayer with the same gesture as we do at the Confiteor at the beginning of Mass ("...through my fault..."). The priest strikes his chest as another sign of humility, recognizing our sinfulness before the majesty of God, and recalling our need for God's "abundant mercies." From this humble stance, we ask our God to give us "some share" with the saints. We recognize the height of the Apostles and the martyrs in the glory of heaven, and we desire to partake in part of that glory, even if we have not attained the heights of these greatest of saints.

Regarding the saints mentioned here, there are not as many as in the first litany. In the first one, it was the Blessed Virgin Mary, then twelve Apostles and twelve other martyrs, some early popes. The pattern is 1+12+12 (prior to the addition of St. Joseph in 1962). In this prayer, we have St. John the Baptist, the forerunner of the Messiah, followed by seven male saints and seven female saints (1+7+7), all martyrs and all from the first four centuries. The pattern of the numbers is quite intentional.

St. Stephen, the protomartyr and deacon leads the list of saints. Matthias and Barnabas complete the list of the Apostles. Ignatius of Antioch and Pope Alexander were both martyred in the early 2nd century. Marcellinus the priest and Peter the exorcist were beheaded around the year 304. Sts. Perpetua and Felicity were martyred in Carthage around the year 202, but they were venerated in Rome as well, as is the case with the Sicilian Virgin Martyrs Agatha and Lucy. The last three are Roman saints: Agnes (martyred in 304 at the age of thirteen); Cecilia (second or third century), and Anastasia, a widow also martyred in 304.

If Our Lord admits us into the company of the saints, it will be the crowning of His own graces and mercy He has showered upon us. Even the ability to merit an eternal reward is a wonder beyond anything we can imagine. It is a gift we must acknowledge in humble gratitude as we continue to wait in expectation of the coming of the Lord.

In Christ,
Father Amato
